A Time For BEARS

This was the year for the Bears. Never before have we had this exciting combination of students and faculty together to create such a unique school year. We showed much interest in our school by becoming very active in school related activities.

Our team rosters showed an increase in the numbers of athletes and our clubs grew stronger with added members.

Our community became involved not only by helping make the second annual Turner Days celebration a success but also by supporting our sports teams, clubs, and various activities. A new superintendent of schools cultivated a renewed spirit and feeling of pride to the high school and even helped prove that a high school administrator can cook at a cookout. We "banded" together to help send a delegation of representatives to the Citrus Bowl in Orlando, Florida, and are proud to have done so.

We concentrated seriously on academics thereby initiating a renaissance of learning. Several faculty members commented throughout the year on the new interest in knowledge among the students, and rightly so. Our enrollment was up from recent years giving us strength in our numbers and providing many opportunities to make new friends.

Along with a large enrollment, however, came a few discomforts. We all had to eat with our neighbor's elbow in our ribs, for example, due to the overcrowded lunch periods, and the juniors and seniors quickly realized that our enrollment was up when we tried to park in the parking lot.

We successfully made it through a North Central Evaluation, and for many students and faculty, seven years is too soon for another in-depth study of our institution.

The old saying that there's a time for everything was alive this year; there was a time for work, a time for play, and, most of all, a time for the Bears.

A Time For Change

"It has grown bigger. I've watched the high school and the two junior high schools being built. I've raised my kids here and I've always been very proud to live here, but I feel that there is always room for improvement," said Mrs. Elsie Bailey.

Throughout the years Turner has grown and developed from a small struggling community to a larger thriving one.

When the high school was built, there were many small houses and businesses, but as the number of families began to grow, so did the community.

One student said, "My dad went here; when he tells about it, it seems like the country, very small. Now we've modernized and become part of the city."

You can see and feel the Turner pride people have. A lady who has lived here all her life said, "There was a time when we had nothing but small businesses and farms, but as we began to grow and take pride in our little community, other people began to notice us and realize Turner was a great little place."

A Time For Others

What it all means, says one word
 Larry. The students and faculty have shown through their efforts what it means to care. National Honor Society member sat up a tutoring program for students at Turner Grade School. The high school student took turns tutoring at the grade school two afternoons a week.

DECA students were kept busy raising money for their biggest charity—muscular dystrophy. However, this is only one of the charities to which the students contributed.

OFA is another Turner Club reaching out to help others in the community. They helped with Special Olympics.

KAY participated in Project

War, for the third year. Project Warmth is sponsored by Channe 5 and the Kansas City Star and Times. Donations of clothing were taken and the Salvation Army distributed them to people in need.

The Spanish Club collected food from state fairs, faculty and community to distribute to needy families.

These are only a few examples of Turner students helping others. These people have shown they care.

Students Help Turner Days Succeed

After the parade, before the game, and all day Sunday, Turner Days booths were open. They were located behind the softball fields. There were many different kinds of booths and games, such as a moon-walk, ice cream stands, balloon stands, and stands with bears, blankets, crafts, or whatever else you could think of.

Team Feels Good, But Disappointed

Peter White, Homecoming King placed the crown on the head of Heather Tate, 1986 Homecoming Queen

The second half was a disappointment. At the end of the game the score was 38-24

"We felt disappointed, but we felt we did some good," said Jim Farley.

"I still think we could have won," said Kevin Ward

"The game was good, but the third quarter killed us," lamented Kevin Creek

"It was weird, Olathe South was ranked second by USA Today and second in Metro, and we could have beat them," said Kevin Creek Spirit and enthusiasm carried through the dance Saturday night. Students and alumni danced to music as a D.J. announced the numbers.

"It was great. I liked the spotlight on the crystal ball," said Steve Rodriguez.

"I think it was too dark; you couldn't see anybody. Decorations were good", said Jamie Farris

The Royalty reigned at the dance. Queen Heather Tate was the Pep Club nominee; Peter White was nominated by the football team Candidates were: Senior Class, Amy Manis and John Hoover; Cross Country, Michelle Wilson and Larry Denning; Football Team, Amy Reardon and Peter White; Soccer, Tonya Forck and Larry Dickerson; Volleyball Team, Debbie Simmons and Tim Bright; Pep Club, Heather Tate and Bryon Bowman; Student Council, Carmen Goodall and Shaun Gee; TAOTA, Kim LaFon and Lewis Edler; Band, Connie Jackman and Curtis Nicholson; KAYS, Roxanne Hancock and Mike Hallisey; Junior attendants, Lita Westfall and Steve Brunk, Sophomore attendants, Jenea Saye and Don Hill.

The Homecoming activities were planned and directed by Student Council under the direction of Ms. Kathy Alcorn and Ms. Nancy Mickiewicz.

Black and gold flashed in the seventy-five degree autumn Saturday afternoon. The fans and team glowed in the excitement of Turner Days and Homecoming.

The Bears were first on the score board with a field goal. When Otha West ran an 85 yard kick-off return for a touchdown, the crowd went wild. At half-time the Bears were optimistic. The score was 12-11 with Olathe South leading

"We thought we were going to win", said Kevin Ward, "We were all hyped up."

"We kept talking about plays in the locker room," said Jim Farley, "but White, Bright, Hoover and Gee were out on the field with the half-time ceremonies and couldn't help us change our plays."

"It didn't matter," said Kevin Creek, "We felt good, we were ready to win."

Half-time ceremonies included band, drillteam and presentation of the royal court, which arrived in shiny convertibles. Parents of each queen candidate and escort were escorted onto the field by cheerleaders.

Spirit Week

Traditionally, Spirit Week is a time for Turner students to have fun and show their school spirit by participating in a variety of "dress up" days. This year's Spirit Week began with "Backwards Day", a day for wearing clothing inside out and/or backwards. There was a good turnout for "Look-alike Day" when students dressed alike. Next came "Entertainment Day", as students dressed as their favorite celebrities, followed by "Roman Day." The most popular day of Spirit Week was "Hawaiian Day."

The fun of Spirit Week was Highlighted by a Winter Activities Dance, with a twist — the girls asked the guys.

Students Show Talent

With "the largest audience ever," according to Mr. Ted Berard, in attendance at the PTSA Talent Show, we'll all remember an entertaining evening in the auditorium.

Who could forget the three opening bands, Naked Steel, Final Justice and the Neighbor Hoods? After snatching everyone's attention with their powerful tunes, they were, no doubt, a hard act to follow.

Jennifer Witcher and Barbara Pipkin, however, held up to the tough challenge very well with their jazz dance duet to "Body Body". Dawn Holder then captured our attention with a dazzling jazz dance solo performance to the snappy rhythm of "Conga". When asked about being in the show, Dawn commented, "... it was a really fun experience."

Julie James was next on the list of performers, singing the touching song "Words Get in the Way" followed by Amy Vincent's heart warming rendition of "Out On My Own".

Sprinkled between many of these acts, Kevin Creek, Brian Trager, Rick Soddors, Daniel Hague and David Lynne amused us with skits and jokes ranging from such topics as Astro-Physics to Good Housekeeping policy.

But the list of entertainers doesn't stop with this group of young men. The Senior Drill Team members, calling themselves "Perfect 10", performed to "Blue Monday" and we all remember the great presentation of "Good Morning America" by Linda Amayo, Audra Durham, Terry Holsti and Randy Justice, calling themselves the "Shade of Blue Ensemble".

"The Rose", sung by Wendy Longobardi, "Piano Man" played by Keith Zimmerman, and "Yeshua Ha Mashiach" performed by Kevin Jordan, all of which were well-presented, were next on the agenda. Linda Amayo, singing "Fever", also gave an excellent show.

The Finale was presented by the Drill Team. Three separations of the team performed magnificently to "Baby, I'm a Star", "Sidewalk Talk", and "Egypt".

First place was taken by the "Perfect 10", second, by Linda Amayo's and Audra Durham's "Fever". Also winning second place were the Neighbor Hoods and tied for third were Jennifer Witcher's and Barbara Pipkin's "Body Body", along with Dawn Holder's "Conga".

TAOTA - Thespians

The International Thespian Society is dedicated to excellence in secondary school theater. There are sixteen members of the Society and five lifetime members in good standing with the national headquarters.

The International Thespian Society is the only organization to honor secondary school students for outstanding work in theatre. The resolution with which the Society tackles this role is evident in its focus on the students; their achievements, involvement and access to quality theatre art instruction are basic concerns of ITS.

Membership gives students incentives to participate in theatre activities and can be an important factor in admission to a quality drama program at the university level. For those who are planning a career in theatre, the Society's offerings can increase enjoyment of the art now and later, when the students become the adult theatre audience.

Thespian membership is granted for the performance of meritorious work in theatre arts which meet the Society's general guidelines. Specifically, students become members by earning points for their work.

Fiddler On The Roof

"Fiddler on the Roof" was one of the best plays that Turner has produced since I've been here," said Mr. Charles Jarrett

That seemed to be the attitude this year toward the musical

"The cast was made up of many talented people. I've never seen so much commitment and care go into a play," said Holly Holland

The play opened with the main character, Tevye, making a speech on "Tradition", which is the theme of the play. Tevye has five daughters. Three of the daughters are determined not to follow the tradition and want to pick their own husband. Tzeitel, Hodel, and Chava disobey their father, one by one, by picking the person they want to marry. This is not following TRADITION, which is unheard of at that time. Tevye, however, survives it all

This is the third musical production directed by Mrs. Judith Jones at THS

Mr. Jerry Cundiff not only coached the cast members' singing, he also designed and hand-painted the set. "It was the best we've had," said Mrs. Jones. "This is one of the hardest plays for a high school cast to do, but we really did a good job and put a lot of hard work into it and really made it work," said Jennifer Krum.

Singers Busy

The Chorale, the Women's Chorus, and the Choir are the three divisions of the vocal music department, which happened to be very active this year. Along with numerous programs for clubs, social groups, and church organizations, the department participated in the League Choral Festival, the Fine Arts Review, the Yuletide Festival, and Baccalaureate.

The group also attended the UMKC Mid American Vocal Arts Festival at which choirs from the heart of America gathered for contests and workshops. "The Festival was a mingling of acapella choirs from mid-America," according to senior Wendy Longobardi.

The department also helped with the musical Fiddler on the Roof, and participated in both the State and Regional Music Contests.

"Chorus provides plenty of rewarding experiences for those interested in vocal music."

Chorale And Yuletide Festival

Of the three vocal music groups, the Chorale is the most publicly recognized

Composed of approximately 24 experienced vocalists, the Chorale is under the leadership of Mr. Jerry Cundiff

Preparing for, and performing at, public events keeps the group on their toes. "We were especially busy at Christmas time," commented Junior Katrina Huyett

The Christmas season began with the annual Yuletide Festival which was held in the high school auditorium on Sunday, December 14. The program consisted of presentations by the combined elementary choirs, the combined junior high choirs, and the combined high school choral groups. The finale of the community Christmas event was the singing of "Joy to the World" by the audience and the chorus.

"The Yuletide Festival shows the public how well the vocal music department is doing."

In December the band and drill team went to Orlando, Florida to march in the Citrus Bowl Parade on New Years Day. They left on December twenty-seventh and had a twenty-seven hour bus ride. They spent seven days in Florida where they went to Disney World, Epcot Center, Kennedy Space Center and also to the beach. They marched a mile and a half parade for the Citrus Bowl and also had the honor of marching at Epcot Center.

"We had a lot of hard work but it all paid off", said Mary Bremenkamp.

"The community had a lot to do with it and we really couldn't have done it without them," said Julie Woods.

"I was ecstatic about the way the entire trip went and couldn't be happier about the way everyone performed and behaved" said Mr. Jarrett.

Won Park said, "I really enjoyed the trip it gave me time to spend with my senior friends since this is our last year together."

BAND

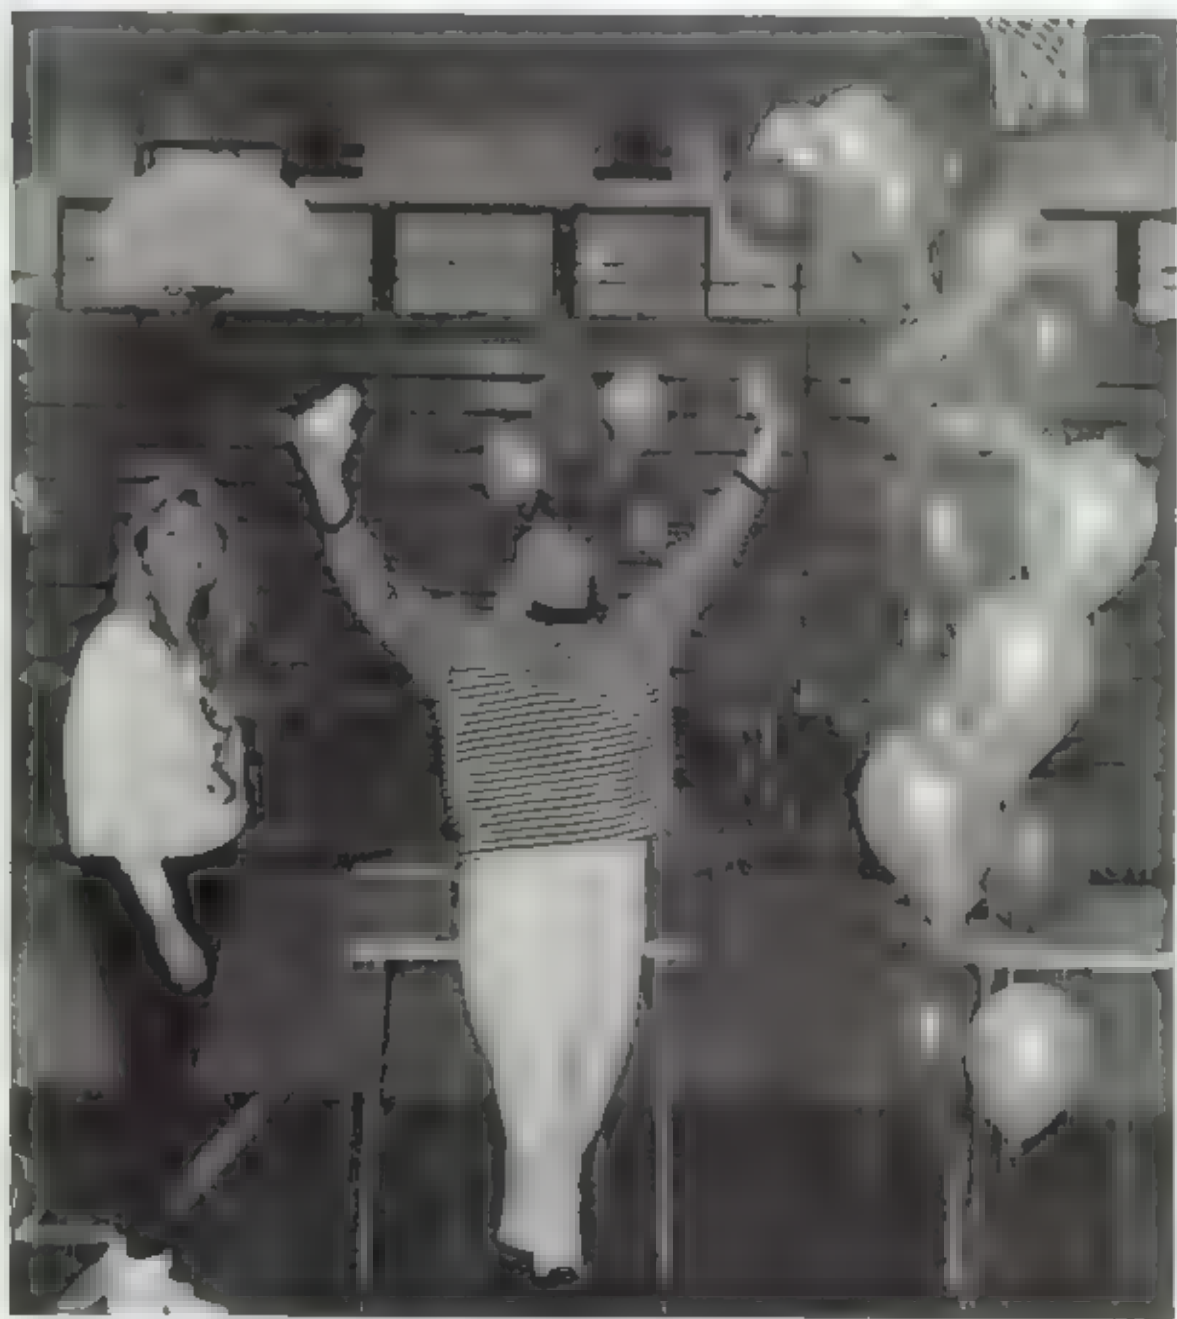

Marching, Concert and Jazz groups are all part of the Turner band program. In the early part of the school year the band participates in halftime at the home football games. And during the basketball season a selected number of students perform as a pep-band. The band has several concerts throughout the year which are open for everyone to enjoy. Student Council

Student Council is made up of 22 Seniors, 19 Juniors, and 15 Sophomores. The President is Carmen Goodall, Vice-President Tim Bright, the Secretary is Amy Reardon, and the Treasurer is Heather Tate. Kathy Alcorn is the Advisor, she is assisted by Nancy Mickiewicz.

Student Council meets one Thursday each month. At these meetings they discuss new topics, new business and old business.

One of Student Council's jobs is to promote school spirit. This year it did this by selling Homecoming buttons, ribbons, and ties, and by sponsoring some booths at the 2nd annual Turner Days Festival, "Spirit Week", and all of Turner's school dances — including prom. Student Council also took donations and bought Phil Neugebauer a new television.

Quiz Bowl

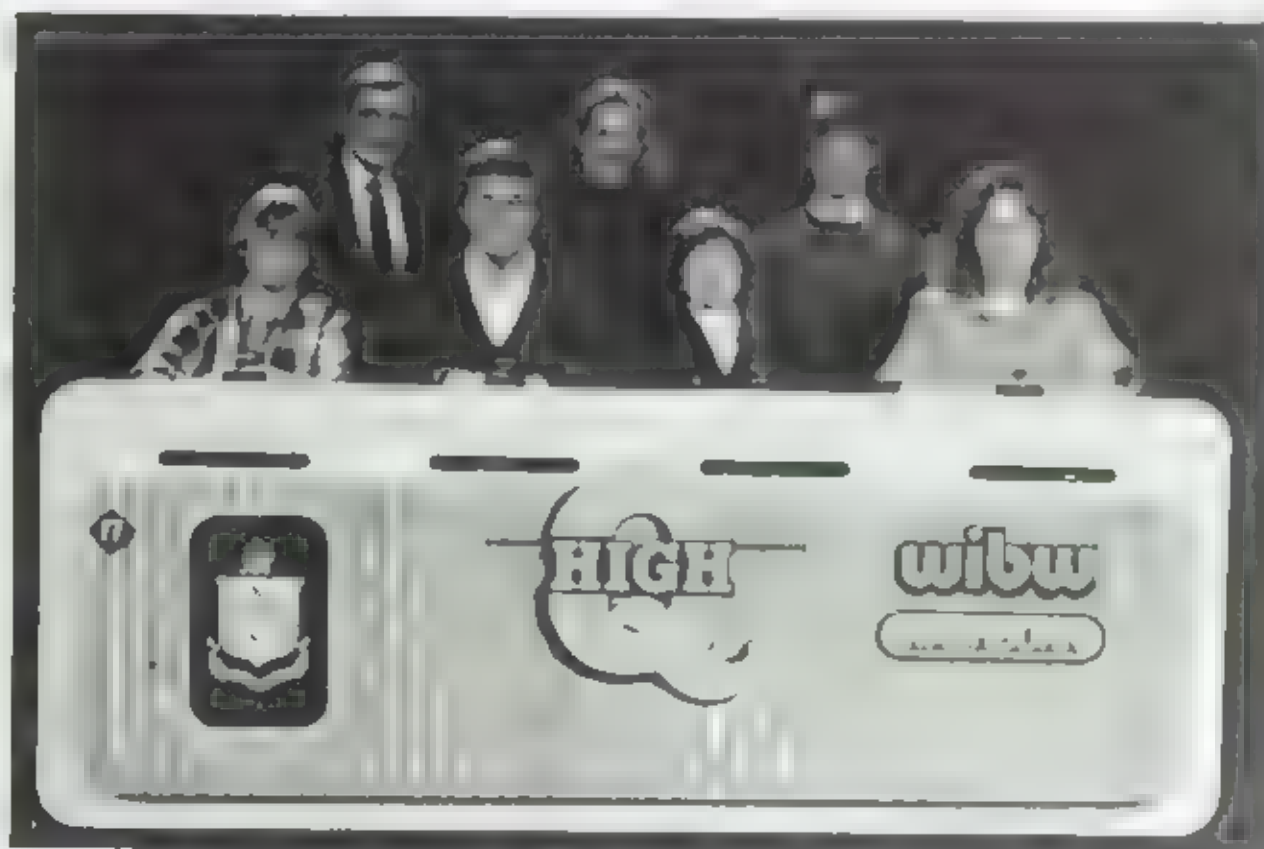

The Quiz Bowl team consists of 9 students: Mike Hallisey, Jim Copeland, Richard Heath, Jeremy Gage, Roxanne Hancock, Karen Zielsdorf, Stuart Griswold, Kathy Henry, and Joe Rahija. The Quiz Bowl competitions are usually held on the weekends. There are two teams present and questions are directed to either team. Some areas that the questions come from are: fine arts, science, math, social science, and current events.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society has been busy with the tutoring project this year. The 86-87 school year is the first year for this project. The high school students take two days out of every week to go to the elementary school and tutor the students. NHS is also granting two scholarships this year, and they were in charge of the secret pals. Other projects included selling bears for a fund raiser at Turner Days and the Induction ceremony.

YFC - FCA

FCA, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, is a national organization designed to give Christian Athletes a support group. FCA helps Christians to grow in their Christian lives and apply the Christian attitude to the athletic field.

Mr. Greg Clark is the FCA sponsor. This was his third year as sponsor. Mr. Clark was an FCA member when he was in college. Mr. Clark likes being the FCA sponsor because he gets the chance to help members grow in their Christian lives by relating to his past experiences.

YFC, Youth for Christ is a group of students who meet regularly to get together and share their feelings. They meet every Monday evening at David Ford's house and on Saturday evenings they go to rallies, which are televised on channel 50, at the Youth For Christ building on Rainbow Boulevard.

The YFC captains are: Becky Hague, Daniel Hague, and Jeremy Gage. The co-captains are: Lisa Bradwell and David Ford.

SADD, Students Against Drunk Drivers, was one of our biggest clubs this year. SADD consisted of over seventy-five members who all worked to prevent drinking and driving. Their message is not to abstain from chemical substances but to abstain from driving while intoxicated.

SADD had a B.Y.O.B., Bring Your Own Banana, banana split membership drive party. The students brought the bananas and SADD furnished the ice cream and topping. They also sold Christmas ornaments and earned about eight-hundred dollars. SADD members distributed literature, about drinking and driving, and they also distributed posters throughout the school, which displayed slogans. One of the most effective slogans was "If your're going to drink and drive, kiss your mother good-bye."

What A Job!

"I need pictures." "Where are the copy sheets?" "This is due when?!" These were among the multitude of questions and comments expressed in room 308 during 6th hour.

The staff, comprised of eight members and one advisor, was continually trying to meet the ever-present deadline as quickly as possible. The task wasn't easy, but it wasn't supposed to be. Many problems and obstacles presented themselves at the most inefficient time, but where's the challenge if there are no problems?

The year was unique not only in that this particular group had never before worked together, but also in that the staff switched to a new publishing company. Learning the "rules" of the new publisher took some time, but eventually the staff caught on, and things began to fall into place. "Being a member of the staff was a new and exciting experience for all of us; we really enjoyed working together," commented staff member Becky Smithy.

Week after week, the staff created the pages of a book to sum up the year, which seemed to whiz by. Finally, the last deadline approached, although the staff was still working on the previous deadline.

Soon the book was finished, and the staff began work on the supplement; is the work of a yearbook staff ever finished?

Booster Sets Ambitious Pace

Booster had a very successful year. They had an ambitious staff and talented new sponsor, Mrs. Carol Huffstutler. They met their deadlines and had a paper out every three weeks beginning the third week of school.

For each issue, they sold advertisements and made layouts the first week. The second week they wrote stories. The third week they worked on the layout of their stories and the production. Members of the staff: Keith Buck-editor, Julie Hathaway-assistant editor, Rita Collins-news editor, Sherri Dickerson-editorial page editor, Amy Manis-sports editor, Stephanie David-advertising manager, Esther Willert -Business manager, Heather Adams, Tim Reardon, Keith Humphrey, Robbyn Leonard, Amy Reardon, and Cindy Bain.

Fashion

The fads for 1986-87 ranged from stirrup pants and dyed denims to the preppy look of sporty sweaters and baggy britches. Big detailed shirts and over-all, over-sized sweaters and many colorful sweat shirts topped off straight-legged jeans. Skirts were another popular fashion, long flared skirts, mini skirts, and jeans skirts.

Hairstyles were a big part of the look. They were different and wild. Some shaved strips of hair from the side to the back. Root perms and wild cuts were in. A new look was the banana comb, and the crew cut was very popular.

Shoes were very important; they set off the whole look. They ranged from tennis shoes to boots. Rebocks, and Keds were the "in" tennis shoes, and cushion boots, sporty boots, and cowboy boots were popular.

Dressing for a day at Turner is simple . . . Anything goes. There is not as much competition here to wear the "right" clothes as at other schools. Everyone dresses as an individual; there aren't a bunch of clones walking around. Clothes make a statement, the statement is "dress for your mood."

Turner News

The 1986-87 school year started out with the school board hiring Dr. Robert E. Hale as the superintendent of schools. Dr. Hale's main concern was running the school district as smoothly as possible. Dr. Hale was also very impressed with the Class of 87. He was pleased to see the dedication to making this year the best possible, presented by the senior class as a whole. Dr. Hale said, "I considered the class a very good example for the other students."

Enrollment this year has soared to seven hundred sixty-two students. Two hundred eight sophomores, two hundred sixty-seven juniors, and two hundred forty-one seniors, attended Turner High School. Another fact that clearly shows "Now is the time for Bears."

In December of 1986, the band and drill team traveled by bus to Orlando, Florida. They marched and performed in the Florida Citrus Bowl parade. The students earned this privilege by selling pizza kits, citrus fruits, M&M's, Christmas ornaments, magazine orders, and World's Finest Chocolate Bars.

The band and drill team also sponsored a bowl-a-thon, a swim-a-thon, and a walk-a-thon. They also received numerous donations from various organizations and people, including Dr. Hale. The trip was a great success and everyone had a super time. During the trip the students toured the Kennedy Space Center, Epcot Center, and Disney World.

Mr. Fugate's Biology II class was invited and went on a tour of Kansas State University's biology department on November 6, 1986. The group saw various classrooms and students conducting biological experiments. The highlight of the tour was the viewing of three human cadavers. The students were introduced to a few systems of the body, and many organs. The trip was a unique experience.

Julie James, senior, was one of three hundred area students selected to sing in the All-Student Choir. In her second year in the choir she along with others performed at the Mayor's Christmas Tree Lighting ceremony on November 28. The choir also sang the National Anthem at the Royal's game this summer.

Jim Copeland, junior, scored in the ninety-ninth percent on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. Jim has been declared a National Merit Finalist.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS

As the year began to come to a close, each member of the Senior Class began to wonder what exactly his or her post-graduation years would bring.

For the past five years, as reported by the Guidance office, over half of the graduating class has chosen to continue their education at either a two-year or a four-year college or university. Also from this information it was found that about one fifth, or 20%, of the graduating classes chose to enter directly into the work force after graduation and about five percent of the classes decided to enter the military. An average of about eight percent of the classes have been undecided about their post-high school plans.

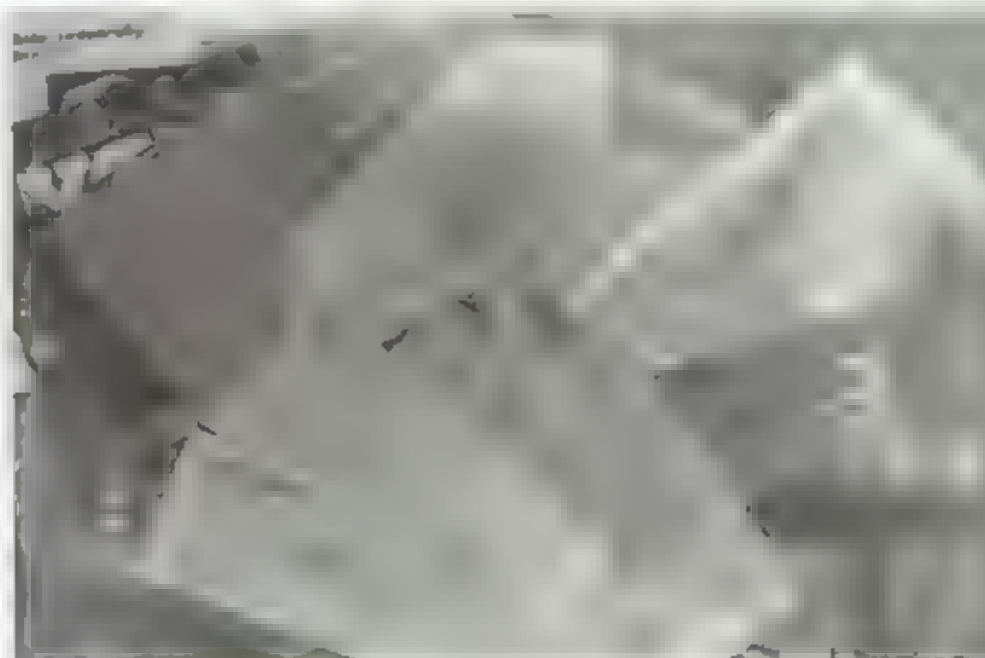

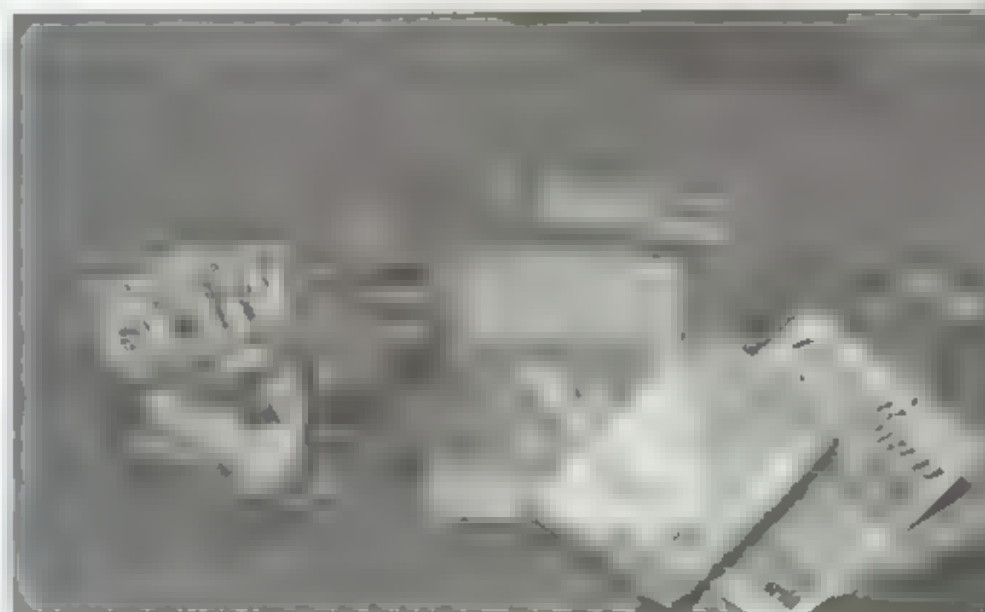

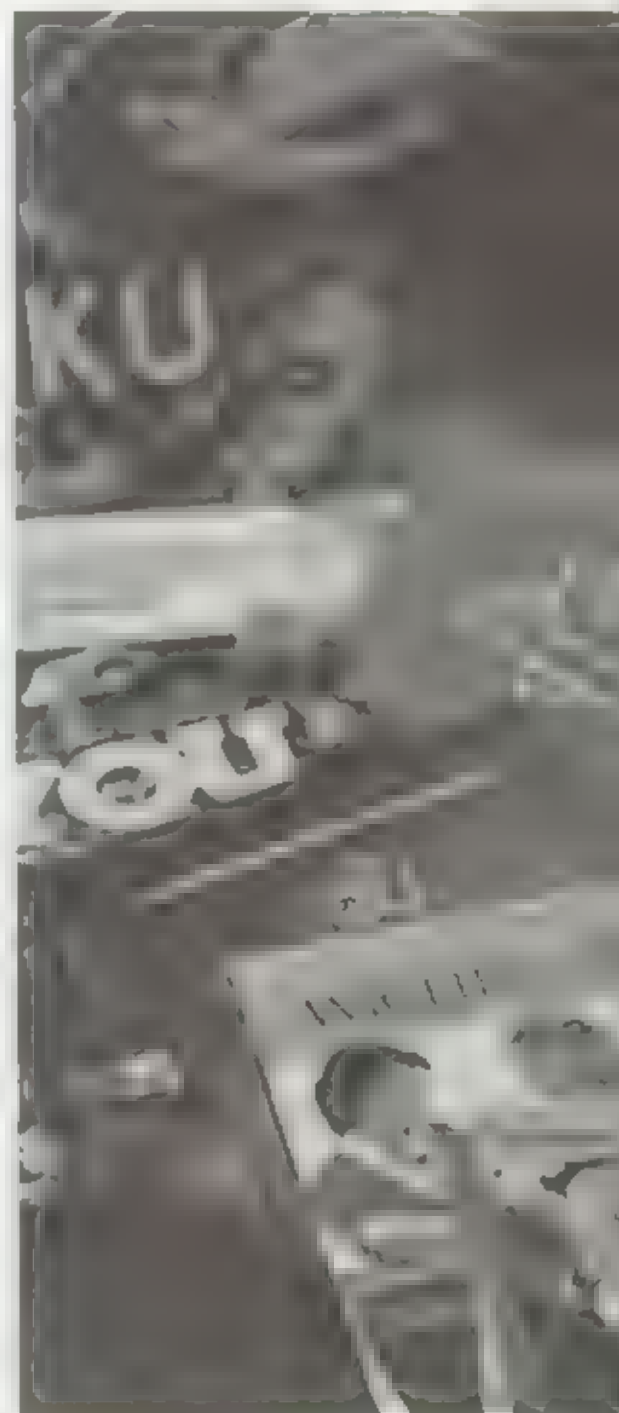

There are certainly many roads a graduating senior can follow. The one you choose to take depends on your personal goals.

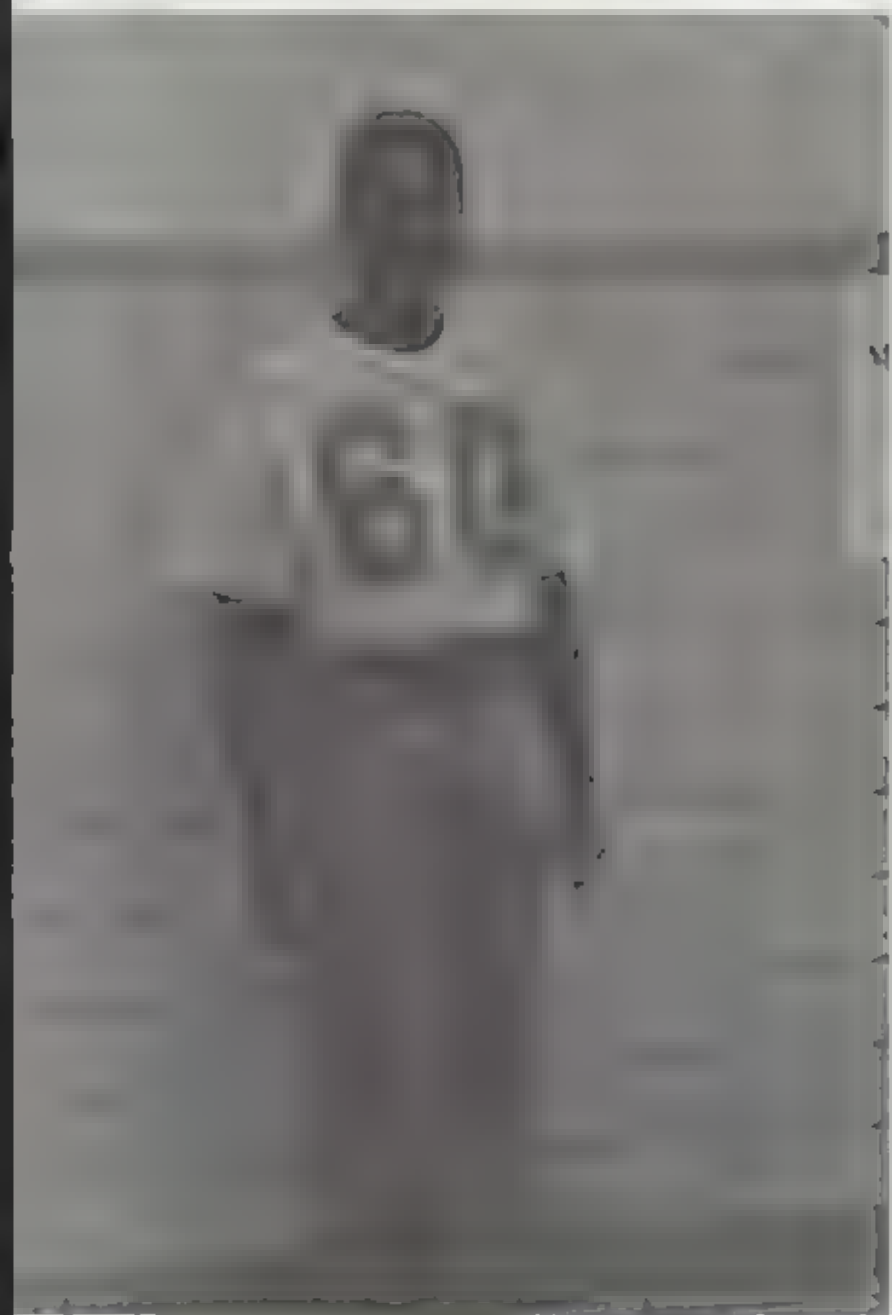

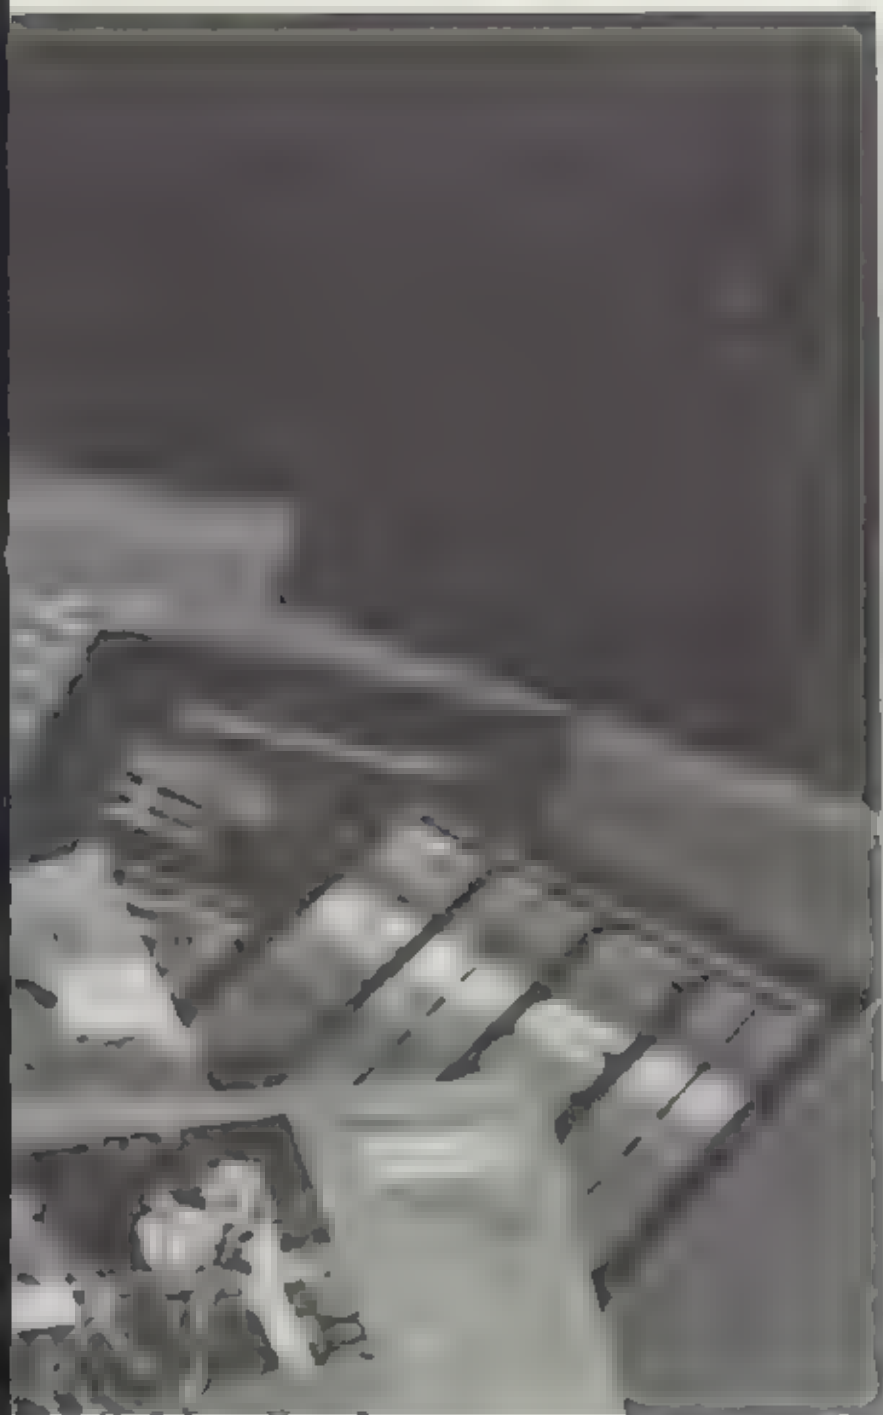

For those seniors who decide that they're finished with school, that it's simply not for them, there are a couple of options. Some choose to join the military and receive the many benefits such as world travel, free medical and dental care, and a good salary. Other students choose to directly enter the work force, getting a quick start on a career as well as immediate monetary income.

Some students however, decide to continue their formal education. Of these students, slightly less than one half enter a two year college and pursue an associates degree in an area ranging from Accounting to Theatre. Also in this group of students are those who choose to attend vocational technical schools after graduation. Here, students study by doing, and learn such skills as carpentry or cosmetology. Finally in this group of students who choose to further their education, are those who plan to attend four year colleges or universities to study in any number of fields.

Some students simply haven't yet decided

This is an exciting year for Rebekah Vandervest. This year she is a senior. Rebekah says that one of her hobbies is dancing and her favorite class is photography. She said, "The one thing I like about Turner is the attitude of the people here." On weekends she is active in her church group, and when she isn't there, she is out with her friends. After Rebekah graduates she would like to go to San Diego University and become a make-up consultant. When asked how it felt to finally be a senior she said, "It used to feel like it took a long time-but now it seems short."

Julie James is a Turner senior who expresses satisfaction in that fact along with a sense of accomplishment. Her favorite class is the government class taught by Mr. Tate whom she considers to be a good teacher. She likes to read and says she enjoys being a library aide because "it's peaceful and gives me time to think."

Julie's weekends are spent "working at DEB and going out." She is also active with Turner Chorale activities. One of the activities she is most proud of is her participation in "The Mayor's Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony." She was privileged to be selected for two consecutive years as a member of a 104-voice choir composed of greater Kansas City high school students. The fund drive associated with the Mayor's Christmas Tree raises contributions to provide food and toys to several thousand of the city's needy children each year and has been a tradition since 1908. Peter White, senior, has been living in the Turner District since he was in kindergarten. He's very athletic and a good student. Peter has been playing football since the third grade. This year and last year he was one of the captains of the Varsity football team. He's always played quarterback

He was also captain of the basketball team. He plays guard. In baseball, Peter played short-stop. His sophomore year, he played Junior Varsity

After high school, Peter would like to go to college and major in criminal law. He has three colleges in mind, Iowa State, Emporia State, and Washburn. He might become a lawyer or he would like to join the F.B.I

Peter belongs to three clubs, T-Club, StuCo, and FCA

He has little spare time but when he does he likes to go swimming during the summer, work out, and chase girls. On the weekends, Peter goes out with his friends, go to the movies or driving around the Plaza

Administration

A salute goes to the Turner High School yearbook staff. Through an effort by many, a printed record becomes reality and will serve as a legacy for the future. In retrospect, the yearbook staff prepares a printed record of what occurred at Turner High School. The record reflects efforts by students and teachers alike in the quest for educational excellence. Through continued hard work those who enter Turner High School in years to come will find those who proceed them have set a good pace and a challenge for continued success.

Dr. Robert E. Hale, Superintendent

Administration

It is my opinion the ladder of success has three rungs. That is, a person to be successful should make an accurate assessment of his/her abilities, secondly they should determine what they hope to accomplish with their life and finally, be willing to exercise the self-discipline and hard work necessary to reach their established goals in life.

Richard E. Fuller

Just as there is no mystery in the demonstrable ability of a ladder to carry one to heights otherwise unobtainable, there is no mystery in the metaphorical application of this device to achieving success. Climbing up the rungs of self-confidence, knowledge, enthusiasm, and hard work can lead to success. The real secret, however, is to take the first step and find reward in the unalloyed act of climbing.

Ted Berard, Assistant Principal

I would like for each of you to look to this day.
For it is the very life of life.
In its brief course lie all the vertises and realities of your existence:

The glory of action,
The bliss of growth,
The spendor of beauty —
For yesterday is but a dream, and tomorrow is only a vision
But today well-lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope.

Look well, therefore, to this day.

Home Economics-Business

The Home Economics department headed by Mrs. Barbara McDonald serves a total of 154 students. The staff consists of Mrs. McDonald who teaches Clothing and Family Living and Ms. Linda Walker who teaches Foods.

In Food classes students learn the basic food groups, nutrition and entertaining in the first course. Foods II students learn fine cuisine, foreign foods, creative foods and cake decorating.

In Clothing students study the selection, construction and care of clothing. The Family Living course is understanding yourself and your family, career planning, family planning and a study of teenage and adult lifestyles.

There are four instructors in the Business Education Department. They are John Hamilton, Carla Parker, Diann Stark and David Vaughn. The following classes are offered in the business department: Record Keeping, Bookkeeping, Beginning Typing, Script, Keyboarding, Introduction to Computers, Shorthand I, Shorthand II, Business Machine, Office Practice and Business Law.

There are 360 students enrolled in business courses. The purpose of the courses offered are to prepare a student for a career after high school.

As a total department there are plenty of classes offering to prepare a student for a career in the business world, filing, clerk, stenograph, bookkeeper, or receptionist. Also, the class helps prepare a student if they are interested in computers; word processing or filing.

Vocational

The Vocational Education Department is made up of six faculty members. They are Ed Lenheim, Larry Alcorn, Jack Mitchell, Jeff Schettano, Jacqueline Smith, and Jim Lynch.

In cooperative education students divide their training between class time and on-the-job experience related to student's chosen occupations.

There are three instructors in Industrial Arts Department. Mike Schmieding, Richard Remy, and Steve Myer. Mr. Schmieding is head of the department.

Courses are offered in Drafting, Woods and Plastics and Metal, and Ceramics. Beginning classes are available to students who have some interest in the subjects. Students who are working towards employment in related fields, find the advanced courses to be beneficial.

English

There are 10 members of the English Department headed by Carolyn Egbert.

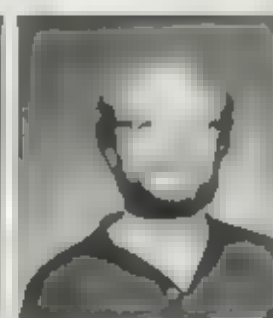

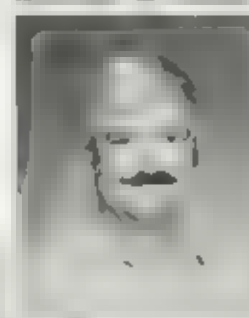

Every student must take a grade 10 English course every semester. Sophomores must take English 11. Juniors must take Composition and American Literature. Seniors must take World Literature and American Literature.

Along the department staff, we have a staff of Drama, Journalism and Journalism.

Art - Music - Foreign Language

There are two foreign language studies at Turner, French and Spanish.

Jim Heath, head of the department, teaches Spanish and sponsors the Spanish Club, which consists of about 40 students. There is a total of 84 students in six classes of Spanish.

Bret Klanky teaches French classes and is sponsor of the French Club. Klanky has 27 students in French classes.

According to Mr. Heath, "The student, who foresees a future in such fields as business, law, medicine, science, athletics, the humanities, or missionary work, or has an interest for any reason in people and culture will find acquisition of a second or third language an invaluable and rewarding tool. This is a prime objective of foreign language study at Turner High School."

The Art department consists of over three hundred students, which is about forty-five percent of the total school population. The teachers are Nancy Mickiewicz, who teaches Drawing, Pottery, Photography, and Commercial Art, and Jill Barnard, who teaches Introduction to Art, Drawing, Printmaking and Painting.

Art provides an opportunity to learn about a new craft or to enhance the skills already acquired.

The music department has two faculty members. Mr. Charles Jarrett is in charge of instrumental music and Mr. Jerry Cundiff is in charge of vocal music.

The instrumental department offers two different classes: Concert Marching Band and Jazz Band.

The vocal department offers three different classes: Choral, Women's Choral, and Chorus.

Resource Center - Driver's Education

Driver's Education and Cycle Safety, are taught by Gerald Shoemaker and H.D. Henderson. These are not required courses, but Mr. Shoemaker, department head, feels that everyone could benefit from the classes.

Driver's Education had approximately 100 students and is a full year course. Both Henderson and Shoemaker teach this class. Students alternate driving and course work. While some are driving others are in study hall with Mrs. Lenor Murphy.

Motorcycle Safety and Advanced Driving are semester courses. There are about 30 students in this course.

The Special Education Program was reorganized this year. In years past, the program was operated by the Wyandotte County Special Education Coop. Starting this year, however, Turner directed an in-district Resource Center for those students in the district with special academic needs.

Dr. Madge Regan headed the department for the entire district which served around 500 special need students. The biggest change, commented Kathy Alcorn, head of the Resource Center at the high school, "resulting from moving the control of the program from the Coop to our own district-run program, is that special need students will no longer be bused to another school. Except for low-incident cases, the students will stay in their neighborhood schools."

The Resource Center is staffed by Kathy Alcorn, Donald Fitzsimons, Christine Siebenlist, Donna Sternsdorff, Kathleen Whitaker, Nadine Zahniser, and Marcella Zerr.

Physical Education - Social Science

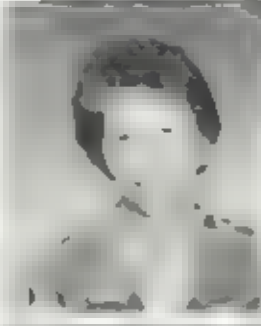

Mr. Carmody is head of the Physical Education department. The Physical Education courses that are offered are Weight Training, Drill Team, Dance, and Cheerleading. Students receive one half credit for each of these courses. Teachers in the department are Mr. Carmody, Mr. Ewing, Ms. Cummings, and Ms. Bond.

There are 250 students enrolled in Physical Education classes.

There are three Social Science courses required for graduation: American History, Government, and Sociology. Beginning next year, Consumer Economics will be required in place of Sociology. Other courses offered are Psychology, World History, Geography, and International Relations. The Social Science department instructors are Tom Flynn, department head, Jim Tate, Russell Lane, James Kendall, and Bruce Koerth.

Math

The Math department is headed by Bernita Burgess. The staff includes Shirley Coffin, Barbara Hurst, Burley Martin, Terry Benson, and Bret Kankey.

Several progressive math courses are offered to Turner students to prepare them for college. Among these courses are: Pre Algebra, Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, Modern Introductory Analysis, and Calculus. Enrollment in these courses this year ranged from 20 to 96 students.

Many college-bound math students participate in the Math Club, sponsored by Mrs. Burgess. In addition to participating in contests throughout the school year, the Math Club also organizes and conducts a math contest for fourth, fifth, and sixth grade students in the district.

These courses offer practical applications: Mathematics Basic skills which reinforces arithmetic skills; Consumer Math which helps students to deal with ordinary business forms and computations; and Practical Math which is a practical review course. These practical math courses attracted enrollments of 21 to 44 students this year.

Basic Computers I and II are popular courses at Turner. Basic Computers I emphasizes program design, operations, theory, sub programs, and other technical aspects of computer applications are covered in Basic Computers II. Students with a special interest in computers may go on to Basic Computers III for instruction in advanced concepts.

Science

The Science department, headed by Lloyd Fugate, is made up of five faculty members. They are Bruce Bowman, Greg Clark, Cynthia Cummings, Lloyd Fugate and Frank True. There are 409 students enrolled in science classes. Classes range from General Biology, a required course to Biology II, Chemistry and Physics. A number of students are dually enrolled and will receive college credit from KCKCC for their classes in Physics and Biology II.

Any student interested in science may join the Science Club. The club has Star parties and attends lectures.

Counselors - Librarian - Nurse

If you need a book, go to the library and choose one of the 15,590 books that are available. About 140 people visit the library each day. The librarians, on an average, are checked out. The main purpose of the library is to provide the materials necessary to support, enrich and implement the curriculum. This is the role of the librarian, Ms. Levin.

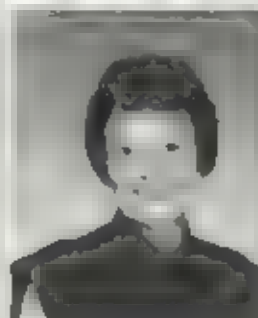

Counselors are available when they are needed. They basically deal with the students' personal problems, course selection, and other matters. A full day of the counselor's work is called "counseling" as stated by Mr. F.

The nurse is available for first aid and physical problems. The nurse is also seen in the nurse's office. The nurse is taught to weigh, take temperature, and do other errands and do first aid.

Staff

The office is here to serve parents and students and work through the administrators, as stated by Mrs. North. The office aides are kept busy doing errands and taking care of copy work and other odd jobs.

Shirley Hedges and Janet Jackson keep the Attendance office running smoothly.

As a paraprofessional Mrs. Siler does clerical work for the resource center. She assists individual students and grades papers.

Mrs. Murphy supervises the Driver's Education study hall. She shows films, gives tests, and gives students make-up work. She also supervises the cafeteria area before and after school and keeps the snack machines filled.

Mrs. Elsie Bailey has many duties. As a library assistant, she does clerical work and also helps students in the library. She is in charge of the A-V equipment room. She checks out the A-V equipment and makes sure it is in good repair. She also has hall duty during B lunch.

Mrs. Whisner does clerical duties in the counselor's office and has hall duty during A lunch.

Bus Drivers Custodians

Custodians at Turner keep busy. This group is what keeps our school looking clean. The custodians repair things, empty the trash, sweep the floors, and much more.

If you need a ride home—who can you count on? The buses! On those cold winter days you can rely on those buses to pick you up. But we could not have this service if we didn't have the bus drivers. At night all the buses go to the "bus barn" — then early in the morning they are started up and out on the road to pick up those that need a ride. THS is lucky enough to have free bus services.

Security at THS can mean different things. We have the security guards for the parking lot and we have the security personnel for our halls. So if you want to park legally- then you need a permit, and if you want to walk the halls "legally"- then you need a pass permit.

The "Lunch Bunch" are our own cooks here at Turner. Each day they prepare a hot lunch for the students, or you can choose to eat at the "Bear's Den."

Football Gains Respect

The Turner Varsity football program could only manage 2 victories in the 9 game season, yet they feel they have gained something they long deserved—the respect of the other teams.

The team was led by 3-year head coach, Coach Carmody. When asked to make a comment about his team he replied, "The record doesn't show it, but this years team was one of the most competitive team Turner has had in years. These guys never gave up; they always saw a chance in each game and went after it full strength."

Many of this year's successes came from the leadership of 19 seniors. This is the largest number of seniors in six years. "If the same number of seniors tryout for the team next year then Turner will have strong leadership and a better record."

Junior Varsity Tastes Victory

The JV football team consisted of mostly sophomores and a few juniors. They have shown that inexperience could be overcome by dedication and hard work.

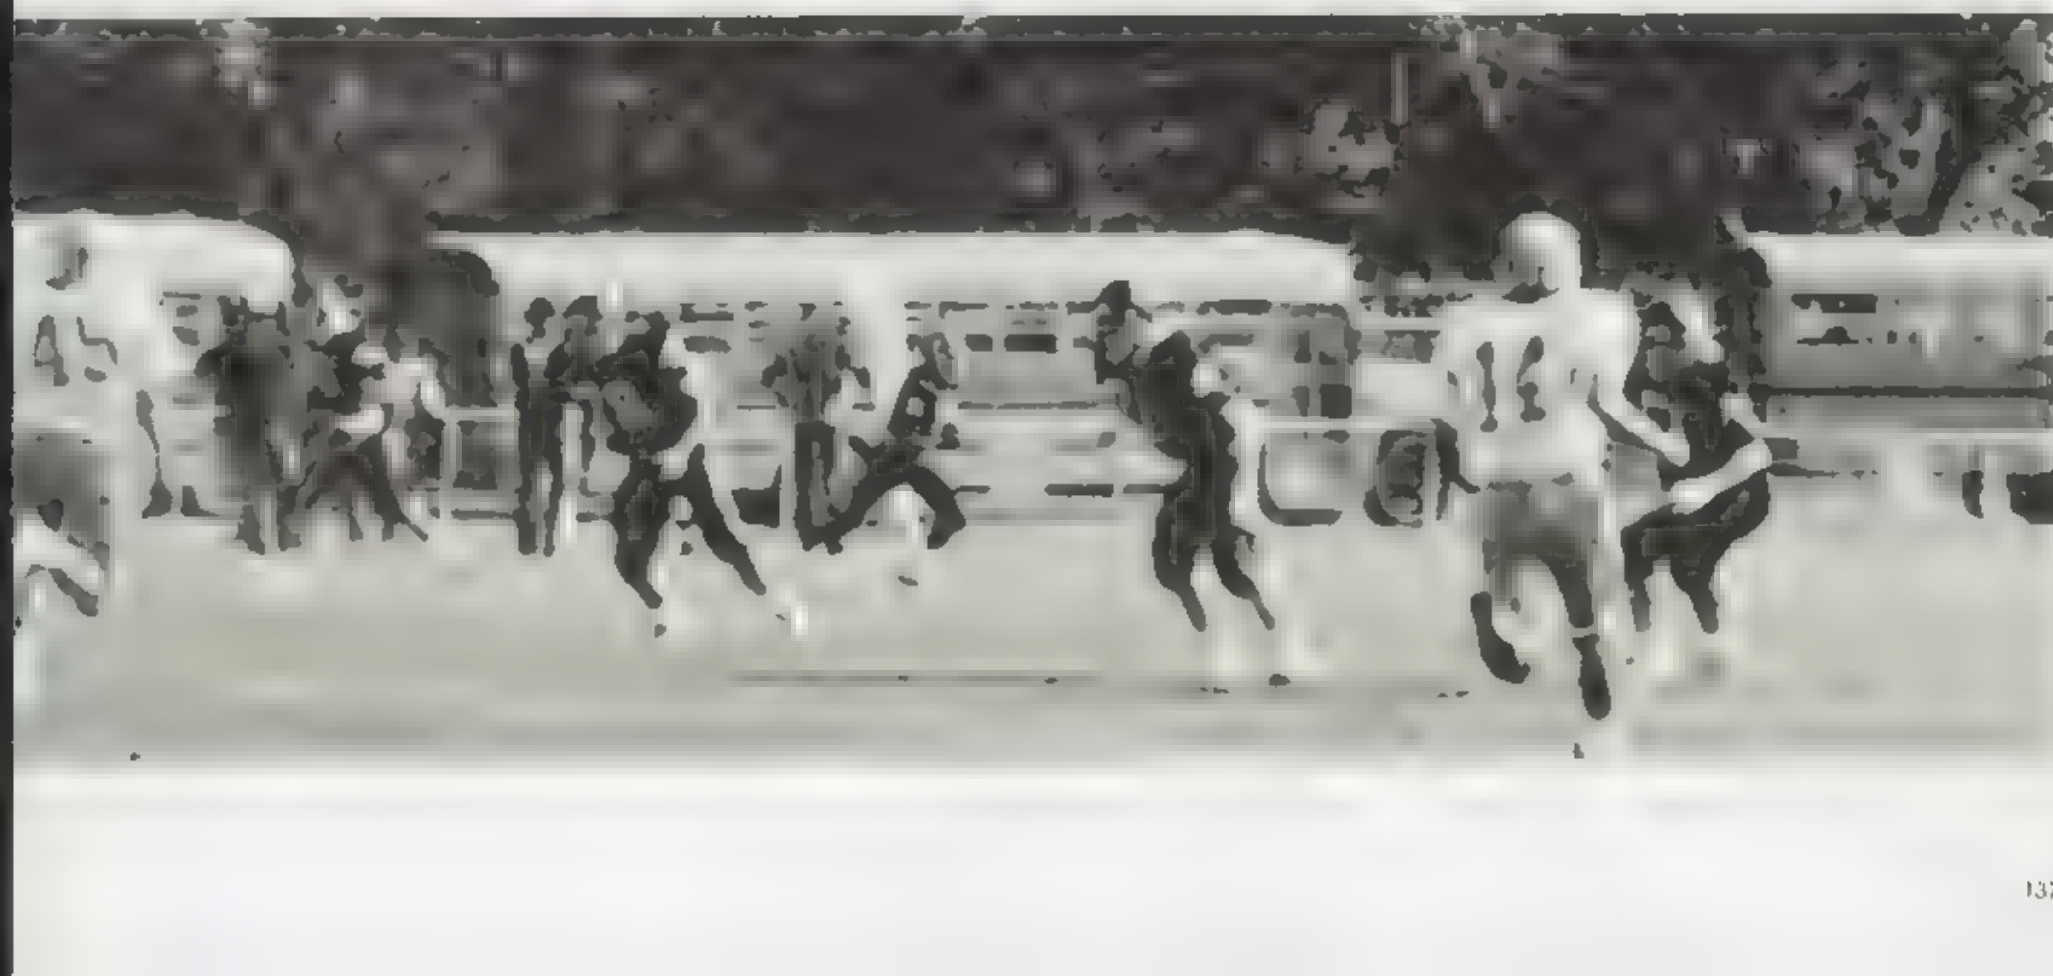

The team started the season with a loss to Harmon and came back the next week with a win over Blue Valley. "This is a young team, most of them didn't have any previous experience in at the high school level and the Harmon game was the place where they learned what it was really like," said Coach Giacalone.

The determination of the team is shown by their improvement in the record. They went from last year's winless season to a 3-5 season. "This isn't really a good record, but it's a first step to having a successful season in the future," said Giacalone.

Soccer

Improving With Age

The soccer team had more try out this year than ever, with 19 varsity players and 14 junior varsity players. With an increase in lettermen and more wins the team is improving and becoming more competitive.

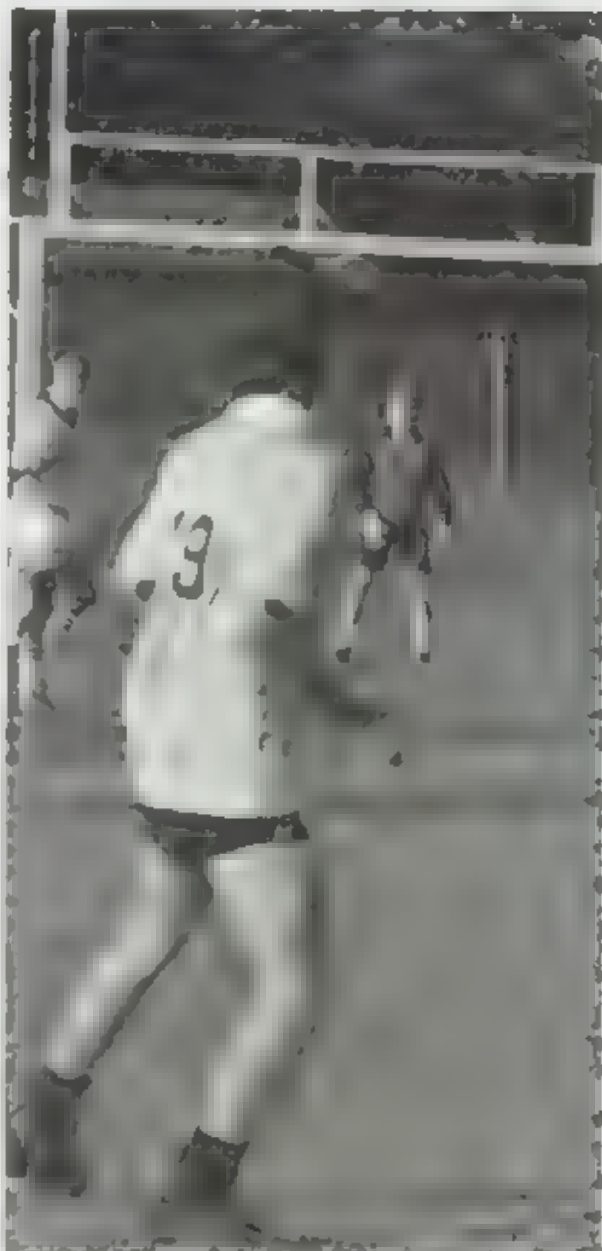

The soccer team went undefeated in Wyandotte county and participated in state playoffs.

There were three all EKL selections, first team Eddie Long, second team: Kirt Kampschroeder and Larry Teal.

Volleyball

Volleyball has had many additions to the team this season, new uniforms, new players, and a new coach. The team had its high moments and its disappointments. The team consisted of three returning letterman and only one, Deborah Simmons, was a fulltime starter the previous season. The team's 4-20 record does not tell the story of the season. The losses were only by a couple of points. Three of the wins were against teams in EKL. They were Blue Valley North, Olathe North, and Olathe South. Rena Daniels said, "It was a great opportunity to play with the individuals that I did." "I thought that it was mostly a building year and I am looking forward to years to come," replied Ellie Patton. "The season did not go as well as I would of liked it to go, although it was a fun season and I wish next years team to go to state," quoted Debbie Simmons. Debbie Simmons was named Honorable Mention All-Kansas Volleyball Player for Turner.

The junior varsity volleyball team only won two games during the season, but their play improved greatly. The leading scorer on the team was Jo Ann Shebel. The last few weeks of the season the girls began to play as a team and get the job done. "Many players did not finish the season for various reasons, yet the rest pulled together nicely," said Jo Ann Shebel.

Cross Country

The Cross Country Team consists of eight members. Seniors Adrienne Daily, and Larry Denning, Juniors Robert Campbell and Chris Jackson, and Sophomores Dawn Holder, Paul Lillich, Theresa Spencer, and James Titus compose the team.

The team had a very promising year with seven of the eight members of the team receiving medals. "The team didn't win any meets this year, but was much more competitive than we've ever been before," commented Mr. Vaughn. "The team worked together much better than before, and all members said they really enjoyed the season and had fun," he added.

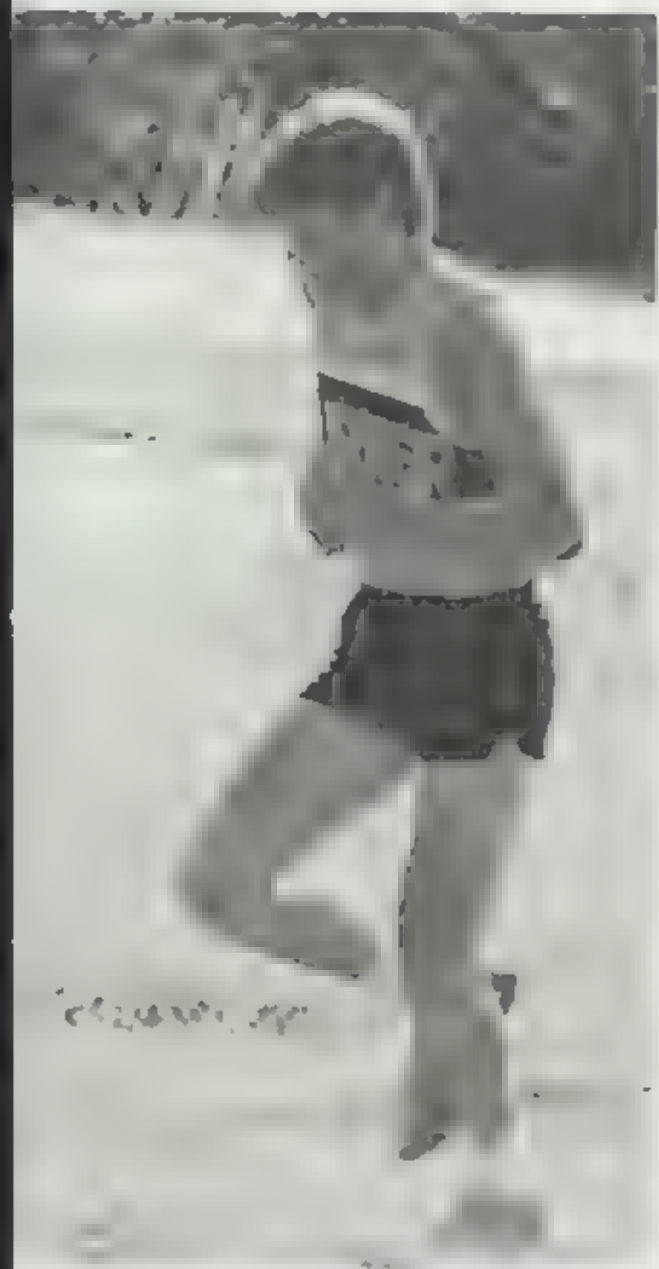

At the Bonner Springs Invitational, the Boys' Team impressed the crowd by taking sixth place, only eleven points from a third place trophy. This showing earned Larry Denning and Paul Lillich medals. The Girls' Team also did well, with Dawn Holder and Theresa Spencer also receiving medals.

At the Ottawa Invitational, however, the team experienced a few problems. The course was hilly and the day was hot, yet Paul Lillich endured to earn a medal for the Boys' Team. In spite of these these adverse conditions, the team beat one of their main rivals, Olathe North.

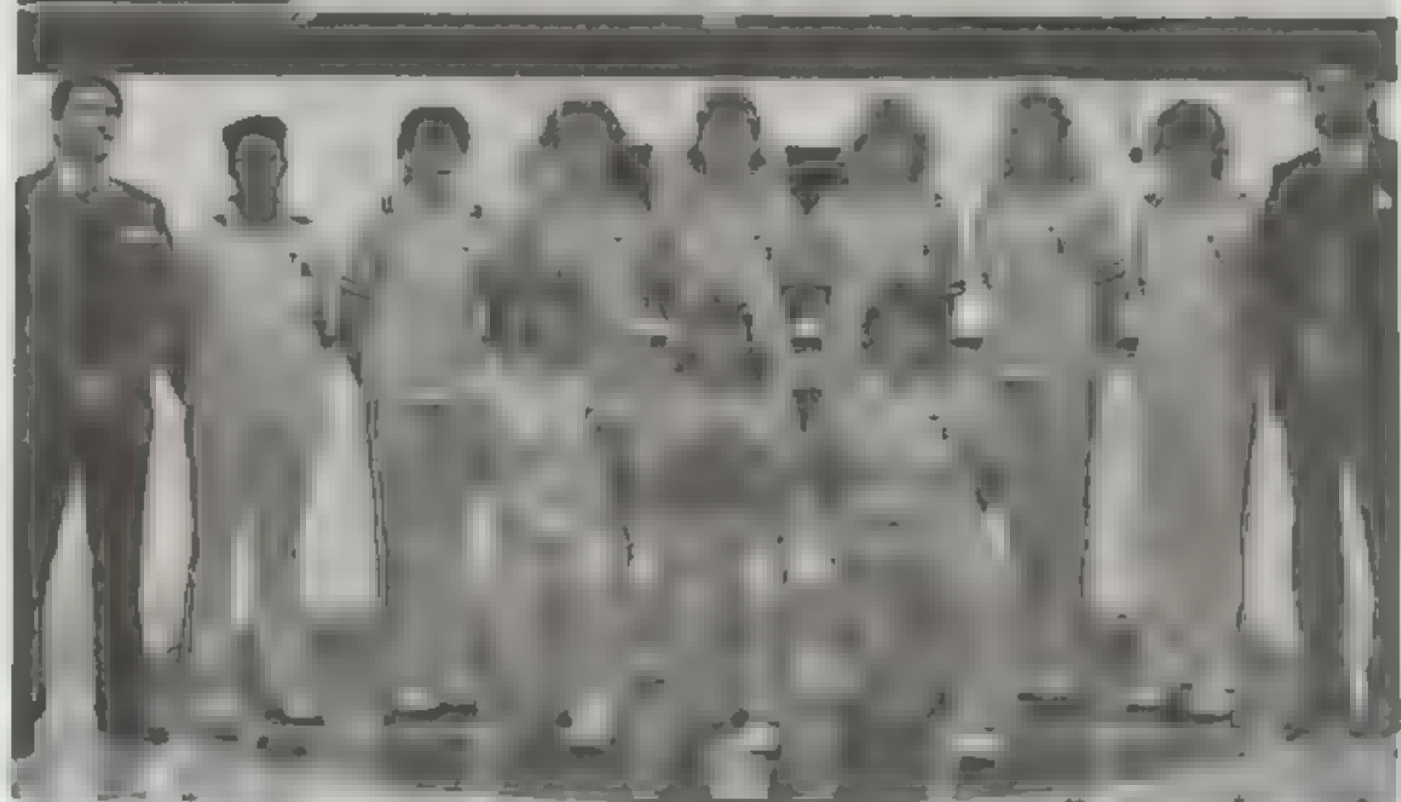

At Johnson County Community College, the team beat Ward High School for the first time. The team felt this to be a great accomplishment. Larry Denning took a tenth place medal, with Paul Lillich also receiving a medal. The Girls' Team showed great improvement at this meet.

"This season showed a great improvement and a better standing for the team," stated Mr. Vaughn, who has great hopes for next year with four returning lettermen. When asked about next year's team, Coach Vaughn responded, "With the combined efforts of the team, I'm sure we'll have a great season."

High Spirits

The girls basketball team had an off season with only one senior returning

The entire team seemed to work together well even though there were fewer girls than usual

"The size of the team was discouraging at first because we didn't have a Junior Varsity team but we did our best with what few people we had.", said Pansy Simmons

The team had a few upsets this year but managed to keep up their spirits. "We each had a little sister and we exchanged gifts on every game day it brought us closer together and helped us work as a team," said Teresa Clayborn

The team ended the season with a win over Bonner Springs with a score of fifty Turner - forty-two Bonner which was a great victory for the team. They all worked together well as a team and displayed excellent skills it was the best game of the season.

"They shot excellent at the Bonner Springs game we were all proud of them." said Julie Woods

"If we had more support from the students and they showed up to more games maybe it would get more interest and enough people would play so we could have a Junior Varsity team." said Mary Bremerkamp

VARSITY BASKETBALL

.... WORKING WELL AS A TEAM

The crowd was shouting, Turner's varsity basketball team was making progress.

Turner's team took a loss against Blue Valley but proved to their fans that they played a good game. Everyone seems to believe that victory is the only thing that matters, but that's not true. Being able to play a good game and being good sports showed not only maturity but also good sportsmanship. "People, " however, "don't give the team the recognition it deserves, " commented Heath Calfee. Obviously Turner's making progress, they are getting better. An indication of this progress is the games against Blue Valley. In the first game against Blue Valley, Turner lost 31 to 61. In a later game against the same team, the Bears lost by only a few points. "They are working well as a team, " said Coach Lane. With three seniors on this year's team, and nine returning seniors, the team is growing and improving in both participation and competition.

HARD WORK BRINGS IMPROVEMENT

Improvement is easy to see when you look at the JV boys basketball team. These young men were defeated by Ottawa early in the year, but showed that fighting Turner spirit and came back to defeat the Ottawa team by ten points later in the season.

When asked about the team, coach Clark commented that "the JV kids worked hard and they improved with every game."

A wise man once said, "It's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game, that counts." Our JV team proved that by showing such great improvement. Coach Clark confirmed this by stating, "A number of the players will be ready to step up to varsity next year."

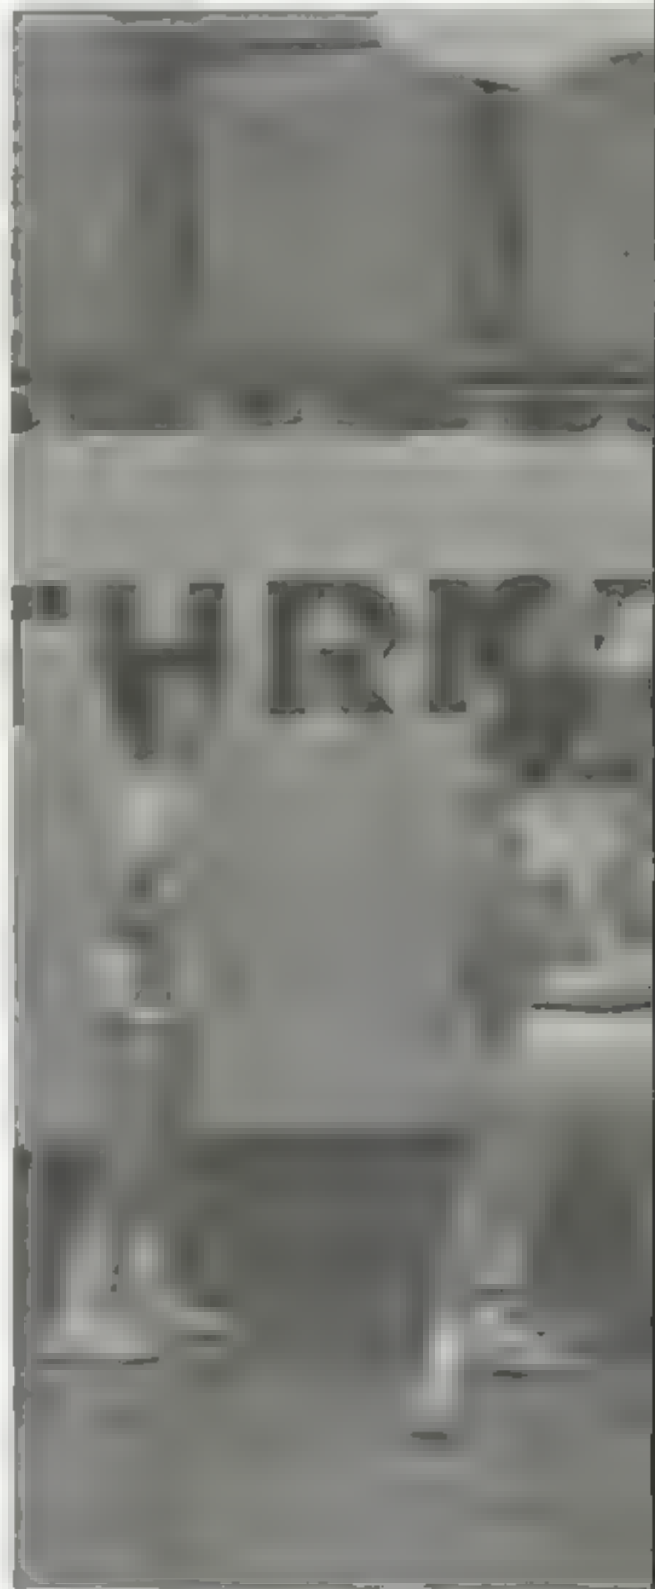

Also showing great improvement was the Sophomore team. Coach Tate commented on the season, saying that it was "fantastic experience." He also added that he felt "the boys learned a lot."

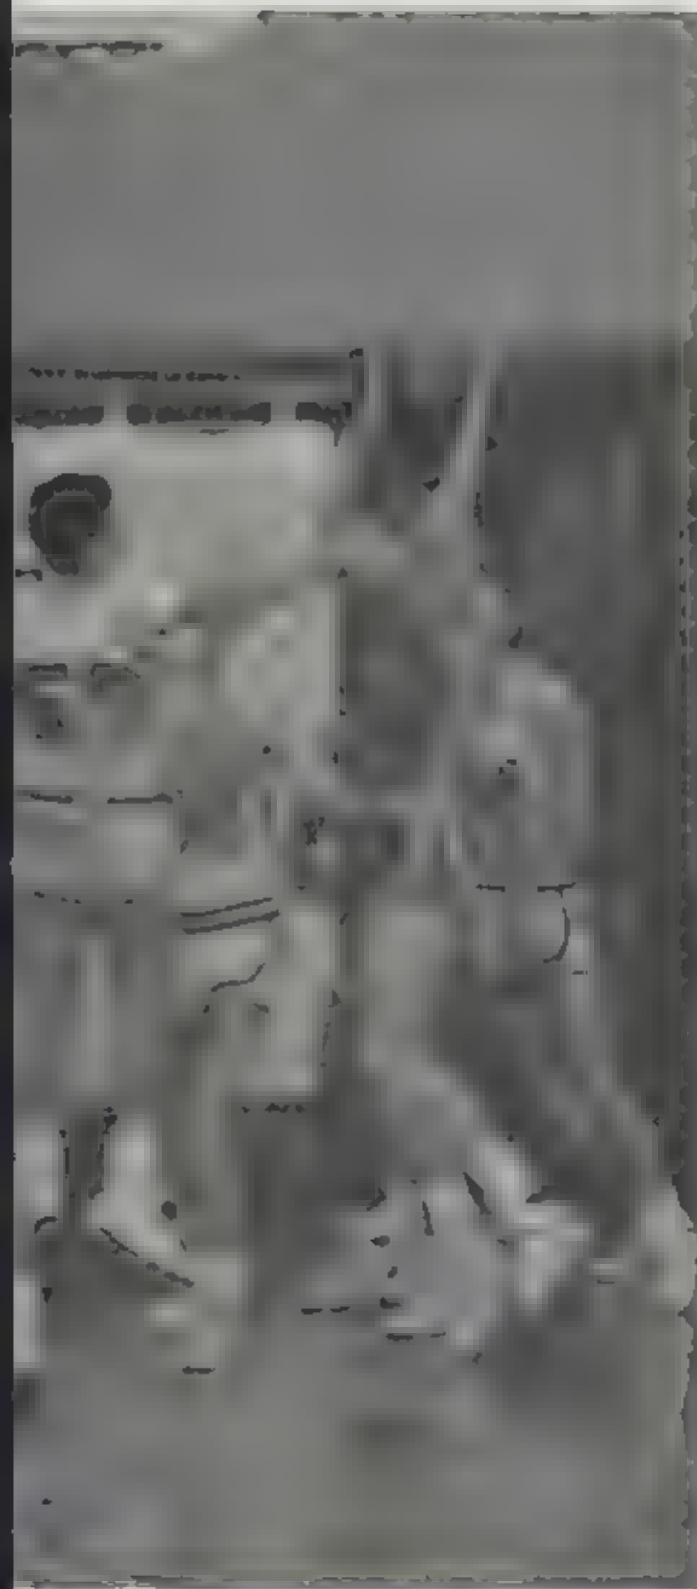

When asked about the future of this team, Coach Tate replied, "I'm looking for great things from these young men in the future."

TWELVE WINS A New Record

For the past two years the most talked about sport in Turner has been wrestling. Because in '85 Turner finished the season with a ten win record, the best since 1972, and in '86, surprisingly with only four returning lettermen, the Bears tied the '85 record. This year they went even farther by ending the season with twelve wins.

"We had some players who led in individual stats, but overall it was team effort," said Coach Giacalone. Coach Carmody also added by saying "Overall this record shows JV support. When a varsity wrestler couldn't get down to his weight or was sick, a JV wrestler took his place and came through for us."

The Bears success story could not only be told in dual, but also in tournament. The varsity took three first place, six second place, six third place, and eight fourth place medals, from three different tournaments. They also brought home a third place trophy from the Piper tournament.

The JV team is also very impressive. They ended this season with a 9 and 3 record, and brought home 15 first place, 8 second place, 4 third place, and 2 fourth place medals.

Cheerleaders

The 1986-87 Cheerleaders started their year off at camp in Marshall, Mo. as Missouri Valley College

The girls were taught cheers, jumps, pyramids and competed against the other squads there

The Varsity squad set a goal before going to camp. They wanted to bring home all blue ribbons and the spirit stick. Which they did accomplish, plus they brought home a Superstar Award. All four squads did.

The junior varsity gold squad got three red ribbons, one blue ribbon and an Award of Excellence Nominee and a Spirit Stick.

The junior varsity black squad received three red ribbons, a blue ribbon and a Spirit Stick.

THS's sophomore squad won three red ribbons, a Spirit Stick and a white ribbon

Besides going to Missouri Valley College this summer the squads also went to the First Annual EKL Cheerleading Conference held at Meigs

When asked how she felt about having yell-leaders on the squad, Charlotte Barth replied "I am glad we got to have yell-leaders this year because they helped raise school spirit. They improved and made cheerleading more exciting."

The THS Goldenettes began preparing for the school year by attending the Kansas University Superstar Drillteam Camp during the summer. They learned new routines for the 1986-87 school year, developing and perfecting the precision routines during their four-day stay.

Several team members won individual trophies and ribbons. Lisa Banister, a junior, was selected from 27 nominees to be a "Superstar Girl" on the basis of her overall outstanding dance ability. Amy Manis, a senior, was one of three finalists of 575 girls in the Drill Down Competition. Turner won the Sweepstakes trophy for the highest team averages of accumulated individual awards. The Shining Star Award was also presented to the Goldenettes for their positive attitudes, enthusiasm, discipline and poise.

This year's drill team, sponsored by Cindy Cummings, who is a dance major herself, consisted of seven sophomores, seven juniors and eleven seniors. Five of the senior members have been drill team members for all three of their years at THS: Barbara Pipkin, Captain; Amy Manis, Co-Captain; Rita Collins, Carmen Goodall and Amy Reardon.

The Goldenettes perform at THS athletic events and in several parades throughout the year. They performed along with the THS Marching Band at the American Royal, Silver City, and Turner Homecoming parades. They also performed at the NAIA competition in Kansas City, Missouri, and the Citrus Bowl in Florida.

In addition to performing, the Goldenettes sponsored a little girls' dance clinic for younger district students, possibly future Goldenettes. The participating girls in the clinic perform at the first THS wrestling match.

A Time To . . . Reflect

As the year draws to an end, it's time, once again, to reflect on the happenings of the school season. That first day of this school year, this era, doesn't seem like too long ago. In fact, however, it was full nine months.

Many things have happened in that time. Meet the Bears, Homecoming, and another successful Turner Days celebration all seemed to get the year off to a snappy start. Soon, the seniors ordered graduation announcements and the juniors ordered their class rings. The fantastic fall musical, "Fiddler on the Roof" was followed by Thanksgiving break.

We all went separate ways over Christmas break. (Several headed south to Florida) but soon we were all back together again and ready to face the challenges of a new year.

The end of the first semester was soon upon us, then came the PTSA Talent Show. Spirit week brought increased enthusiasm to the student body, and the spring play, "Auntie Mame," caused laughter in all of us.

Spring Break came and went, followed by the end-of-the-year testing, and now, the finals days of the era are coming to a close.

But what has really happened this year? Sure, we've learned and developed our minds, but more than that, we've developed our personalities. Friendships, love affairs, and other strong emotions led us all to seek that one special characteristic, that inner motivation, that seems to quietly shout, "you can do it!" And through the successes we acquired, due to this motivation, we learned that anything is possible.

Learning, therefore, wasn't only occurring in the classroom; it was everywhere we went and in everything we did. Living is learning and the students of THS certainly did a lot of living this year.

Living and learning, sharing and caring, succeeding and failing, we made this year one to remember.

Colophon

660 copies of the 1987 Turnerite volume 53 were published by Jostens Printing and Publishing Division, Topeka, Kansas. The trim size of the page is 7¾" X 10½". There are 192 pages. Dirk Wedd was our sales Representative.

Eighteen years ago as we looked into the smiling eyes of a mere babe, little did we realize the quality and depth of character residing within. But as time passed, your work, words, and deeds amply justified our hopes for you. Now, as a Graduate, we Congratulate you. But as a youth we admire you for you are one well-suited with the strength, courage, and wisdom to reach your goals.

LOCKERS REFLECT PERSONALITIES . . .

If there's one thing that all Turner students have in common, aside from the same mascot, it's lockers. Everyone has a locker, but not everyone sees it in the same light.

Some students see their locker as no more than a closet to be stuffed with jackets and books; while others find in their lockers a tiny piece of the school in which they can express their thoughts and feelings.

"My locker has lips on it," commented Connie Jackman. "Our lockers need to be bigger," stated Lani Dawson, with Stuart Griswold adding that "they need to be more secure."

"I like to hang magazine clip outs of women, clothes, and cars in my locker. I have a picture of the Hugo Boss man, he has some really hip clothes." said Paul Rader

When asked about his locker, Richard Campbell replied, "Yeah, I have one!"

Mary Bremenkamp and Julie Woods, when asked if they have decorated their locker, answered, "Having six lockers, we can't complain about space, but between trips to each one, we have no time to decorate!"

It's easy to see that lockers, just like clothes and mannerisms, tend to reflect personalities, and, for this reason, we found some very unique lockers this year.

... OF STUDENTS

Center: Brenda Chambers' locker showing a bumper sticker and a couple car window caution signs along with a few notes.

Simony, your pal

Well, it looks and feels as if that interlude time has come when I must say goodbye to room 316 and its warm spirit. I tell you, you have been more like a friend to me than a teacher, and I greatly respect my friends. I may have sacrificed the material of times but deep down you know I appreciate the finer things, which is what you and your class do all about. I must say for seeing me to the end where everyone thought they had me pegged. The divine mystery of words means nothing when I have a friend such as you to brush it off. That, for wanting "back to 1952" I'm burning like a white hot roman candle. The time is at hand

Mr. Heider

NOTE —

It has been very pleasant being your student and assistant. You are a great teacher and with that, a friend! I will be that not having you is a great disadvantage. I will be
